DETAILED ACTION

This Office action is in response to the Request for Continued Examination filed 28 November 2007.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1, 3-5 and 7-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nguyen (US Patent # 7,036,091) in view of Robbins (US Patent # 6,819,344 B2) and further in view of Vayda et al (US Patent # 5,745,717), hereinafter Vayda.

As to independent claims 1 and 5, Nguyen teaches:

- displaying a first ring on a picture screen and a plurality of icons at predetermined intervals on the first ring (i.e. ring as menu 420, with icons as options 424, see col. 7 lines 64-67 on TV 104);
- rotating each displayed icon on the first ring while maintaining the order of arrangement (i.e. see col. 8 lines 13-23);
- highlighting an icon corresponding to an operation (see col. 8 lines 29-33),
- selecting a highlighted icon at (col. 8, lines 29-33), and
- performing the operation corresponding to the selected icon (see col. 8 lines 29-33).

Nguyen teaches a display method according to claim 1 (see claim 1 above), but does not teach wherein said icon displayed at a specific position of said ring is displayed larger than the other icons positioned on the ring. Robbins teaches wherein said icon displayed at a specific position of said ring is displayed larger than the other icons positioned on the ring (i.e. enlarging by not occluding a selected segment through warping controls, by way of graphical manipulations such as the "fish-eye" technique, at col. 5, lines 35-38).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, having the teaching of Nguyen and Robbins before him at the time the invention was made, to modify the displaying of selected icons as taught by Nguyen to include displaying a larger icon that is selected as taught by Robbins with the motivation being to "examine details associated with the selected image," (see lines 15-20, 'Robbins).

However, Nguyen and Robbins fail to explicitly teach automatically centering the selected icon on the picture screen and removing the remaining plurality of icons on the first ring from the picture screen.

Vayda teaches a ring menu system similar to that of Nguyen and Robbins (see Vayda, Fig. 11). Furthermore, Vayda teaches automatically centering the selected icon on the picture screen and removing the remaining plurality of icons on the first ring from the picture screen, taught as the enlargement of a selected menu region and displaying the menu across the entire screen, at col. 13, lines 18-23.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, having the teachings of Nguyen, Robbins, and Vayda before him at the time the invention was made to modify the ring menu system of Nguyen and Robbins to include the full-screen enlargement of Vayda. One would have been motivated to make such a combination for the advantage of allowing a user to more efficiently manipulate the user interface. See Vayda, col. 1, lines 46-49.

As to claims 3 and 7, Robbins teaches:

- displaying a second ring of smaller diameter than the first ring surrounding a displayed position of the highlighted icon, when it is determined that a plurality of secondary operations corresponding to the operation exists (i.e. wheel or ring 352);
- enlarging the second ring when the highlighted icon is selected (i.e. see Fig. 12); and
- displaying icons corresponding to respective input items at predetermined intervals on the second ring (i.e. items 358 around ring 352).

As to claims 4 and 8, Nguyen teaches a display method according to claim 1, wherein one of the icons displayed on the first ring corresponds to the operation of returning a display including a previous menu layer (i.e. fade in or out as needed, see col. 9 lines 56-61).

Regarding claims 9 and 10, Nguyen can be shown to teach highlighting the first ring when performing selections on the first ring, taught by the arrows of Fig. 7-9.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 3-5, and 7-10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
